

What if time is a bird?

Being is hanging in air moving through itself:

branches of wind , wind in branches

equals

movement without

edges

-

where time is sun

*

projected on stretch-feathered wings.

Don't blink, or you'll miss it.