cheekily surreal remixes, where people sculpt songs with AI voices of politicians like Joe Biden. If AI has any benefit to music, it's in the way it offers this new toolkit of machinery to artfully misuse. I hope people deploy AI as a cheat code rather than a crutch, and use it to invent a cornucopia of thrilling effects just as rappers like Kanye and Future did with Auto-Tune.